

Open-fly alert and Trump's tissue

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

---

Step 1: Learn the following vocabulary. Write the Japanese translation in the space provided.

---

English

Japanese

Zipper

_____

Fly

_____

Your fly is (seems to be) undone.

_____

Your zipper is down (or open).

_____

Your zipper is undone (unzipped).

_____

You need to do up (zip up) your fly.

_____

---

Step 2: Work with a partner. What should you say or do (or not) in the following situations? Write your advice in the spaces below, then go over your answers with your teacher.

---

You are...

A. at a party or other social gathering and you notice a friend has his or her fly down.

B. at work and your co-worker arrives with his or her fly unzipped.

C. on a crowded bus and you notice a stranger has his or her fly down.

D. walking down a street and you notice a stranger has his or her fly down.

E. with your elder brother and elder sister and you meet a family friend in a store. The family friend has his or her fly down.

F. at work and your boss arrives with his or her fly unzipped.

G. at a party and your friend introduces you to someone who has his or her fly down.

H. sitting in the classroom when your teacher arrives in the classroom with his or her fly down.

---

Step 3: With your partner, take turns attaching a tissue paper to different parts of each others' bodies. Then, role-play the following situations:

---

1. You are at a party and notice that your friend has a tissue stuck to their body.

2. You are at work and notice that your colleague has a tissue stuck to their body.

3. You're with a sibling, and you meet a family friend at a store who happens to have a tissue stuck to their body.